

Kent and the Wider World

Raising awareness of global issues and the links between people in Kent, Medway and the wider world

Enabling people to take action for a world that is more socially just and environmentally sustainable

We are looking to recruit

Part time tutors and project support

Kent and the Wider World wishes to develop a team of part time staff and freelance tutors to support the work of the project and help develop and deliver education in global citizenship and sustainability.

We are looking for a number of people specialising in one or more of the following:
primary, secondary or tertiary education; teacher training;
informal education; youth and community;
resource and database work; communications.

Members of the team would be based at our Maidstone resource centre or at our Bore Place study centre in west Kent.

Travel throughout Kent would be involved for most roles.

Hours are flexible, from a few hours per term to one or two days per week.

For applicants willing to offer a regular weekly commitment, hours would be agreed at the start.

Appointments could be for one, two or three terms
in the academic year 2008-09

Salary range is dependent on role undertaken, skills and experience.
For example: £13/hour for tutoring; £9/hour for support work; specific pieces of work can be negotiated separately.

For further information and an application form, contact:

Lyn Kelly, Bore Place, Chiddingstone, Kent. TN8 7AR.

tel: 01732 463255 x229 fax: 01732 740264

info@commonwork.org www.commonwork.org www.kww.org.uk

Closing date for applications: 25 July 2008

Interviews 31 July 2008

Kent and the Wider World is a project of Commonwork, which runs education programmes and a study centre on an organic farm.
Charity number 275151.